New Plant Make Furfural Coming To The Glades

George H. Wedgworth, president of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, announced a long-term agreement with the Quaker Oats Company whereby the Cooperative will supply Quaker Oats with bagasse, a by-product of cane sugar manufacturing — the cane stalks after the juice is extracted.

Quaker Oats announced simultaneously from its Chicago headquarters that the company will build a new plant at Belle Glade for the production of furfural, using bagasse as the raw material.

Construction of the new plant will begin in January, according to Homer R. Duffey, vice president of Quaker's Chemicals Division. Preliminary work at the site, located about two miles northeast of Belle Glade, has been started. Dr. Duffey reports, and orders for major equipment have already been placed. The new facility is scheduled for completion in the last quarter of 1966.

Although capacity and cost figures for the new plant were not disclosed, Dr. Duffey explained that the Belle Glade operation is designed for later expansion and will compare favorably in size with Quaker's existing furfural plants at Omaha, Memphis and Cedar Rapids. It has not yet been determined how many persons will be employed to operate the new facility.

Furfural was first discovered in 1832 by a German scientist, but was not produced commercially until 1922, when the Quaker Oats Company developed a process. The furfural manufacturing procedure is a complicated one, requiring a great deal of expensive and complex equipment.

The raw material, bagasse in the case of the new Belle Glade plant, is cooked with diluted sulphuric acid under pressure. The vapors from this cooking process are removed and condensed, and then sent through complex refining equipment to produce furfural.

"In order to avoid problems of pollution at the plant site," Dr. Duffey said, "special attention has been given to methods of waste disposal. Modern techniques will be used to eliminate the danger of contaminating streams and wildlife areas," he added.

Known chemically as an aldehyde, furfural grew to industrial importance because of its excellence as a solvent. Today its uses are numerous. It is used as a selective solvent in the petroleum, rosin and chemical industries, as an extract a distillation agent in petrochemical production and as a resin ingredient, reactive solvent and chemical intermediate.

It is anticipated that completion of the new unit will improve the availability of furfural for sale as such, and also provide adequate raw material for the manufacture of derivative products.

The Quaker Oats Company is an international business, with 66 manufacturing plants and nearly 12,000 employees located around the world. In addition to being the world's largest producer of furan chemicals, the company is internationally famous for its consumer,

Vegetable Price Is Fair Before Yule Season

The vegetable price in the Everglades is fair this week. Really it should be a lot better with the Yuletide season only a few days away. However, growers and brokers say that everybody can make a living in the Glades if the present prices don't drop any lower.

Production and harvest of beans in the Glades was very light during the past week with the price standing between $3.50 and $4.00 per hamper.

Celery demand has been very good, according to packing house reports. The market has been stronger and the price has varied with the size from $2.50 to $3.00 per crate.

The demand for corn has been very good and the market has been stronger with fancy bringing $2.50 and white corn bringing $3.00 per crate.

The cucumber market is stronger this week and the price has been from $4.50 to $5.00 per bushel tub. Peppers have seen a firm market and the California Wonder variety has brought as much as $6.00. Radishes were selling for 75 cents per basket.

Acorn squash has been in light demand and the price has been around $2.00 to $2.50.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new  $3\frac{3}{4}\%$  interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to  $2\frac{1}{4}\%$  for the first year and a half, then a guaranteed  $4\%$  each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic  $\frac{1}{2}\%$  increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00); $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy H Bonds automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have your interest you name automatically deducted every pay day. The Bonds you buy by installment are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for peace. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

Miss Sandra Lampi Weds D. Jarriel Church Ceremony

Miss Sandra Rebecca Lampi of Pahokee became the bride of Donell Jarriel of Canal Point in an impressive candlelight ceremony held at the First Methodist Church in Pahokee Saturday evening, December 11, at 7 o'clock.

The couple repeated their marriage vows after Rev. Robert Shelley of Alachua, former pastor of the Canal Point Methodist Church, as they stood before an altar decorated with holly, mums, gladioli and sweetheart-roses in sprays, against a background of potted palms. The scene was lighted with cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra and there was a candle at each window.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Lampi, Pahokee. She was graduated with honors from Pahokee High School in 1961, at which time she was awarded a music scholarship at the University of Miami. She received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Music and Art in the spring of 1965 from the University of Miami, where she was a member of Tau Beta Sigma and Sigma Alpha Iota Sororities.

During her senior year she served as president of Tau Beta Sigma, and was sweetheart of Phi Mu Alpha Fraternity during both her junior and senior years. During her matriculation at the University of Miami she served in the University's concert and marching bands with such distinction that her band jacket No. 93 was retired to the University's Hall of Fame. She is presently employed as music and art teacher at the Pahokee Elementary School.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith, Canal Point, also attended Pahokee High School, following which he served for two years in the U. S. Army. He is now employed as timekeeper for the U. S. Sugar Corporation at Bryant.

Vocalist in the program of nuptial music was the bride's father, who sang "O! Promise Me" and "Because". During the ceremony he also sang "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Donald Thompson, organist, who also played traditional nuptial selections. Mr. Lampi gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in an exquisitely beautiful gown of white bridal satin fashioned with fitted Bateau bodice and A-line, floor-length skirt appliqued with Alencon lace. The long sleeves were pointed over the wrists, and the chapel-length train with tailored bow was attached to top of square back.

Her elbow-length veil of French illusion fell from a crown of pearls and cut crystals. She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses, variegated holly and stephanotis mounted on a white bride's Bible.

Miss Mary Bella Penna of Wayne, New Jersey, was maid of honor. Her floor-length gown of red crepe was styled with empire waistline and elbow-length sleeves. She wore white wrist gloves and a short circular veil was attached to a red crepe bow and rose headpiece. She carried a cascade of white baby spider mums and variegated holly with red feather carnations in ribbon knots.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joan Ramsey, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Dena Peel and Miss Janice Wilhour of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

W. W. Smith of Canal Point, stepfather of the bridegroom, was best man. Robert O. (Buddy) Lampi, II, brother of the bride, W. C. Ramsey, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Wayne S. Jarriel, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Mrs. Lampi chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise nylon lace and crepe dress with headpiece and shoes to match. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bridegroom, wore a champagne silk brocade dress with matching headpiece and shoes. The corsages of both mothers featured off-white sweetheart roses.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Lloyd Hundley was at the head of the receiving line, welcoming and introducing guests as they arrived. Mrs. Omar Harrison presided at the bride's book. Others assisting were Mrs. Richard C. Lane, Mrs. Forrest Rowlett, Mrs.

Special Course For Parents And Teachers

There will be a course started January 11 for librarians, teachers and parents on how to help children to read, and also what is best for them to read, it is announced by Palm Beach County School Superintendent Robert W. Fulton.

"We must see that children not only learn how to read, but learn how to enjoy books in this television age," the Superintendent said. "The course is an introduction to the wonderful world of children's books," Mr. Fulton said.

The course, entitled An Introduction to Materials for Children, is being offered by the Florida State University School as an extension course in Palm Beach County. Starting January 11, it will be held each Tuesday from 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and those librarians, teachers and parents interested should contact Dr. Edna E. Parker, director of Elementary Education for Palm Beach County's public school system. The course offers three semester hours of credit.

Mr. Fulton said this course will be especially useful for librarians, teachers and parents "who feel the need to keep abreast of the materials being produced for children."

Ron Ter Haar, Mrs. Joe McIlwain, Mrs. Ray Hawk, Jr., and the Misses Vera Johnson, Geni Barwick, Marilyn Mock and Ann Catow.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Jarriel left on a wedding trip to the Florida east coast. They are now at their home in the Connell Trailer Park, Canal Point.

Social Security Takes A Bigger Bite Next Year

Social Security will be taking a bigger bite from the nation's pay checks next year.

The current payment is 3.625 per cent of the first $4,800 in pay. The new rate will be 3.85 per cent for old-age, survivors and disability insurance plus .35 per cent for the new health benefit plan. And it will cover the first $6,600 of pay.

So everybody will pay more to Social Security and those who earn more than $4,800 will pay longer.

Maximum increase, for those who earn $6,600 or more a year will be $109 a year. This isn't the end of the story. The rate goes up again in 1967. From a total of 4.20 per cent in 1966 to 4.40 per cent in 1967 and '68. And then to 4.90 per cent for 1969-72.

Under present laws the maximum tax will be 5.65 per cent in 1987. Increases are programmed in 1973, 1976 and 1980 as well as those listed.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT

In memory of Brother Claude T. Santee, a charter member of this Lodge, who passed away October 19, A. D. 1965, A. L. 5965.

The angel of death has invaded the ranks of the Craft and summoned one of the true and faithful, his passing leaves a pang of sorrow, and a feeling of sadness. His voice will be heard no more around the altar of Masonry, but the noble examples of his unselfish and devoted life will continue to live, to guide the footsteps and direct the conduct of many men. His achievements and sacrifices will live in the hearts of the Craft and we shall think of him as living a beautiful, ascending and expanding life, made radiant by the lights of true Fraternal love.

Resolved, that Everglades Lodge No. 211, F.&A.M. of Pahokee, Florida, in testimony of our loss, be draped in mourning for the proper period and that we tender the family our deepest sympathy in their affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Council Of 100 Start Drive To Get More Cash

The Florida Council of 100 is spearheading a two-pronged drive to increase donations from corporations and individuals for the support of higher education in the state.

The Council's Education Committee under Chairman Frank Hubbard of Orlando is urging Florida business and industry to contribute a percentage of their profits to the support of Florida education. They are also urging out-of-state business and industry to contribute a percentage of the profits they earn in Florida to a similar fund.

"There is nothing unusual about such a request," Hubbard explained. "U. S. corporations contribute over $250 million each year to higher education and all we are asking is that Florida receive her fair share."

Florida colleges and universities, both public and private, according to Hubbard, lag far behind the rest of the nation in donations received Usually, our faces show what is happening to us. For instance, suppose the financial angle of the Christmas season is on your mind.

Suppose you know there's no cash to welcome Santa this year.

Your face will show it.

Suppose, shortly before Christmas you receive a check for your savings during the year.

Naturally, your face will show that, too.
